

Remote – Using Rubrics

Our remotely-delivered, instructor-led training allows participants to learn about ANGEL and interact “live” with ANGEL Learning’s professional trainers from the comfort of their desks. Each hands-on training session is conducted in two-hour segments allowing participants to practice what they learn and address questions in consecutive sessions. Participants need only a phone and a computer with an internet connection to participate.

TRAINING TOPICS

We’ve built rubrics to help standardize and simplify grading of manually graded items, not only in a single course but anywhere a particular assignment is used. Learn how to use ANGEL to provide consistent and efficient grading through a point and click interface. Specific topics and hands-on activities include:

- Overview of rubrics functionalities
- Aligning to content
- Sharing and managing rubrics through repositories
- How to grade with rubrics

Deliverables

Participants receive a copy of the Using Grading Rubrics handout during the training.

Requirements

Training participants need a phone and a computer with an internet connection to participate in the remote training session.
